Dear Mr. Farkhan,

I have received your letter and enclosure sent to our Mr. Chris Pantani.

In answer to your inquiry, Pirelli Tire does not endorse, encourage, sanction or approve the use of any sealant material in its tires.

The Pirelli Original Equipment Limited Warranty for Passenger Tires and the Pirelli Replacement Limited Warranty for Passenger & Light Truck Tires states under the provision of "What is not covered by the warranty" - Tires injected with liquid balancer or sealant or in which anything other than air has been used as the support medium.

The use of your material, by itself, does not void the warranty. If, however, a tire is rendered unserviceable due to the materials introduction and use, warranty coverage would be void.

Should you have any further questions, please contact us.

Sincerely,

Robert Jack
Manager, Service and Consumer Affairs
